

Obituaries

JAMES G. HANLON—

Mass for James G. Hanlon, 61, of 2434 N. Orchard St., vice president and manager of public relations and advertising for WGN Continental Broadcasting Co., will be at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Clement's Catholic Church, 642 W. Deming Pl. Mr. Hanlon died Monday [March 26, 1973] in Columbus Hospital. He also was a director of WGN Televents, Inc. and WGN Continental Production Co. and acting chairman of WGN's editorial board. Surviving are his widow, Frances; three sons, James A., Terrence P., and Sean; a daughter, Mrs. Denise M. Robey; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hanlon; six grandchildren; and three brothers.

ROBERT F. SMITH—

Services for Robert Foley Smith, 74, formerly of Hinsdale, owner and publisher of the Dearborn [Mich.] Press and a former advertising executive in Chicago, were today in the Douglas Protestant Community Church, Douglas, Mich. Mr. Smith died Sunday [March 25, 1973]. He retired as a partner in the United States Advertising Agency in 1954 and purchased the weekly newspaper three months later. Surviving are his widow, Margaret; two sons, Robert F. Jr. and Dexter; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Gabcoy; and eight grandchildren.

RICHARD M. ERBACH—

Mass for Richard M. Erbach, 45, of Park Ridge, an